Product description

This high-quality turbocharger is specially designed for Porsche 911 models in the 992 series, including the Carrera S and GTS variants. It is suitable for cylinders 4 to 6 of the vehicle and helps to increase the performance and efficiency of the engine. The turbocharger is a used original Porsche part, but is in very good condition and undamaged.

The OEM numbers for this turbocharger are OPB145702R, OPB145702K and OPB145702H, which confirm the compatibility and authenticity of the product. These numbers are crucial in ensuring that the turbocharger exactly matches the specific engine requirements of your Porsche 911 992.

Using an original part like this ensures that your vehicle's performance is optimised without compromising the reliability or warranty of the vehicle. The turbocharger is an essential component for engine performance, increasing air intake, which leads to improved combustion and thus increased power.

This turbocharger is an excellent choice for owners of a Porsche 911 992 series who want to maintain or improve the performance of their vehicle while preserving the authenticity and quality of the original parts.
